Stephen S Fuller PhD

BRING A GUEST TO THE DECEMBER CXO!

Described as the “Go-To” economist for the Washington region, Stephen S. Fuller, PhD., knows what lies ahead—for Washington and the nation. This month, Dr. Fuller will engage with CXO members and guests during his 2010 economic outlook presentation and discussion. Come join the dialog and learn from a renowned economist what lies ahead for Washington regarding:

- Housing market trends
- Office market trends
- Employment trends
- Consumer confidence
- Interest rate trends
- Composition of the Washington economy
- Federal spending
- ...and more

Professor Fuller joined the faculty at George Mason University in 1994 as Professor of Public Policy and Regional Development. He served as Director of the Ph.D. Program in Public Policy from July 1998 to June 2000 and from July 2001 to July 2002. He also serves as Director of the Center for Regional Analysis. In September 2001, the GMU Board of Visitors appointed him University Professor and in July 2002 he was named to the Dwight Schar Faculty Chair.

Prior to joining the Mason faculty, he served on the faculty at George Washington University for twenty-five years; he has authored more than 500 articles, papers, and reports in the field of urban and regional economic development.
